COUNSELING SERVICES OFFERED/THEROETICAL APPROACHES

People can make better decision if they have enough information and understand how something works. Here are some aspects of counseling and therapy as I see and practice it.

With over 23 year of practice and thousands of hours of training beyond graduate school, I have come to use a number of approaches in an integrative manner. The approach I use with a given person (couple) is based partly on the nature of the presenting complaint(s) as well as the preferences of the client. The approaches I use include coaching techniques, NLP, Solution Oriented Therapy, structural family therapy, Ericksonian Hypnosis, Cognitive – Behavioral Therapy, John Gray’s Mars and Venus Gender Communication Therapy, kinesiology, and meridian based energetic approaches that look at imbalances within the person’s energy system as well as the energetic influence of thoughts beliefs and emotions on the body.

OUTCOME EXPECTATIONS

Please note that it is impossible to guarantee any specific results regarding your counseling goals. However, we will work together to achieve the best possible results for you.

Counseling & therapy require your active involvement, willingness to be truthful, as well as efforts to acknowledge and/or change your thoughts, feelings and behaviors. You will have to work both in and out of the counseling sessions. There are no instant, painless, or passive cures, no “magic pills.” Instead there will be homework assignments, exercises, writing and journals and perhaps other projects. Most likely you will have to work on relationships and make long term efforts. Sometimes change will be easy and swift, but more often it will be slow and deliberate: effort may need to be repeated.

As with any intervention, there are benefits and risks associated with counseling and therapy. Risks might include experiencing uncomfortable levels of feelings like sadness, guilt, anxiety, anger frustration, or having difficulties with other people. Being confronted with your difficulties can be very challenging. Some changes may lead to what seems to be worsening circumstances or even losses (for example, counseling can not necessarily keep a marriage intact.)

If we are to work together we will need to specify methods, risks and benefits of treatments, the approximate time commitment involved, costs and other aspects of your particular situation. We will discuss a plan that seems most appropriate to help you reach your goals. Periodically, we will evaluate your progress and if necessary redesign our treatment plan and your goals and the methods used.

CONFIDENTIALITY

I regard the information you share with me with the greatest respect, so I want us to be clear as possible about how it will be handled. There are two circumstances in which I cannot guarantee confidentiality, legally and or ethically. 1) When I believe you intend to harm yourself or another person, and 2) when I believe a child or elder person has been or will be abused or neglected. Otherwise, I will not tell anyone anything about your treatment, diagnosis, history, or even that you are a client without your full knowledge and usually a signed Release of Information Form.

The only other exception to the above is that your diagnosis and billing information will be released to your insurance company if you seek reimbursement. I cannot guarantee the further confidentiality of this information once it is sent to the insurance company. If your therapy is being paid for by a third party such as an insurance company from an automobile accident they may require specific information about your symptoms and progress to continue paying for your treatment. If this happens you will be informed of this event ahead of time and we can discuss your options at that point.

CONFIDENTIALITY WITH COUPLES WORK

If I am working with you in the context of couples or relationship work, I will not share details of our private sessions with your partner. This is information that is also protected by confidentiality. If there is something I believe your partner should know, I will ask permission to share it and encourage you to share it yourself. If you are actively having an affair or withholding information from your partner that I believe is important I will encourage you to share it. If you are not able to share it I will excuse myself as your therapist as I will not be part of keeping a detrimental secret from your partner. Even in this case your confidentiality will be protected.

LENGTH OF SESSIONS AND CANCELLATIONS

I assure you that my services will be rendered in a professional manner consistent with accepted ethical standards. There are several session length options. Sessions are either 50 minutes, 80 minutes or 100 minutes. We will schedule our sessions for our mutual agreement. If you are unable to keep an appointment please call to cancel or reschedule at least 24 hours in advance. This time is set aside just for you. If unable to give such advance notice you will be billed in full for the session missed. In instances of extreme emergency such as car accident while driving there, an extreme accident by a family member that day, last minute cancellation by baby sitter, or major accident on the road you are traveling on to get to my office which significantly delays traffic, the fee will be waived. (If you are coming for couples work and your sitter cancels I prefer that one of you still make the session as opposed to last minute canceling.) I am not able to wave to fee for late cancellations due to inconvenience, error in scheduling on your part, last minute meetings at work etc. I would love to have that flexibility but unfortunately late cancellations do not allow me enough time to fill your slot.

FEES / METHODS OF PAYMENT/ GAURANTEE

My standard fee for a stop smoking program with Hypnosis is $495. Methods of payment include Cash, Check, Credit Card. We take a $100 non-refundable deposit over the phone at the time of the visit. Most clients are successful in 1 or 2 sessions. Included in this price is a life time guarantee. If you need booster sessions again it will be free of charge.

BILLING/INSURANCE REIMBURSEMENT

If you wish to seek reimbursement for my services from your health insurance company, I will be happy to complete any forms related to your reimbursement provided by you or the insurance company. Payment in full is expected at time of visit. Except in certain circumstances, I do not receive third party payment. I will not file insurance claims for you but will provide the necessary documentations.

Some insurance companies will reimburse clients for my counseling services and some will not. Generally companies that allow you to see an out of network practitioner for mental health services will provide reimbursement. Those that do, usually require that you meet your out of network deductible before reimbursement is allowed and then they will reimburse you a portion of the fee. However, please remember that you are responsible and not your insurance company for paying the fees agreed upon

Health insurance companies often require that I provide a diagnosis of your mental health condition and indicate that you have an “illness” before they will agree to reimburse you. I will inform you of the diagnosis I plan to render before I document it on the forms you will submit to your insurance carrier. Any diagnosis made will become a part of your permanent insurance records.

EXPLANATION OF DUAL RELATIONSHIPS

Although our sessions may be very intimate psychologically, it is important for you to know that we have a professional relationship rather than a social one. Our contact will be limited to sessions you will arrange with me. In the rare occasion we may bump into each other out of the office I will of course maintain your confidentiality. If you wish to extend a brief hello that is fine. Or, if you wish not to acknowledge the encounter that is fine as well. There have even been times when clients wish to introduce me to friends as their therapist so they can give a call later to set up an appointment. That is fine too. You will learn a great deal about me as we work together during your counseling experience. However, it is important for you to remember that you are experiencing me in my professional role. Ethical principles do not allow for dual relationships. This means that we cannot have a role as therapist/client and have another role such as you being my plumber or lawyer. It is unethical for therapists to have intimate personal relationships with clients. Sometimes patients/clients develop strong feelings about their therapist. There is nothing wrong with these feelings. In that event, they should be discussed as part of treatment. Under no circumstances is it ethical or helpful for them to be acted upon.

COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

If you are dissatisfied with any aspect of our work, please inform me immediately. This will make our work together more efficient and effective. If you think that you have been treated unfairly or unethically, by me or any other counselor, and cannot resolve this problem with me, you can contact the Pennsylvania Psychological Association at (717) 232-3817 for clarification of clients' rights as I've explained them or even to lodge a complaint. If you have any questions, please feel free to ask. Please sign and date both copies of this form. A copy for your records will be returned to you. I will retain a copy for my confidential records.
